STYLESHEET GUIDELINES FOR AUTHORS

Submission guidelines

All material for publication should be sent to the Editors of Pyrenae at pyrenae@ub.edu. In the case of several authors it is necessary to specify the author responsible for correspondence with Pyrenae. The Editors will confirm the receipt of the manuscript.

Authors wishing to enquire with respect to the suitability of their manuscript for publication should contact the Editor or an Associated Editor. All manuscripts, if considered suitable for publication by the Editors, prior to final acceptance, will then be subjected to a double-blind external peer-review, following the ethical and scientific recommendations of the European Association of Science Editors.

We remind that Pyrenae publishes original articles that reflect and encourage scientific research in all fields of study ranging from Prehistory to the Archaeology of the beginning of the Middle Ages, as well as aspects related to methodology, theory and historiography ..., with a clear commitment to excellence and innovation (see Editorial Policy).

Articles must follow the specified guidelines for format, bibliography and illustrations provided on this pdf or directly using the website. We also recommend that you read, in particular, all the ethical issues (cf. Code of Ethics) and the licenses and permissions for open access publication (cf. Permissions).

Authors can find useful resources and tools provided by the University of Barcelona for writing their scientific manuscripts at the Interuniversity Style Guide.

For the use of inclusive language and the applications of best practices, see indications and resources in the Pyrenae Code of Ethics.

Authors must follow the page format of Pyrenae:

> Page size: 23.5cm x 16.5 cm
> Actual printable area (without margins): 18cm x 13.2cm.

Guidelines

Papers must be written in one of the following languages: Catalan, Spanish or English (French and/or Italian might also be accepted when considered necessary by the Editors).

The maximum length of the article (including figures and tables) will be 12000 words.

Major articles 'commissioned' by the journal can have a maximum of 16000 words.

Authors should bear in mind that each table or figure will be counted as 600 words per page.

Manuscripts should be written in electronic format, preferably for PC and in MA Word. Tables, figures and captions for tables and figures should be sent as separate files.

The title must be representative of the contents of the article.

Authors must provide the name, surname(s), institutional affiliation or place of work, with a postal address, email, ORCiD and the corresponding author telephone number.

The text must be preceded by a short abstract of no more than 100 words, in both the language in which the article is written, as well as in English, also of the same length. The abstracts should summarise briefly the aims, methodology, the results and conclusions of the work. Each abstract should be followed by a maximum of 6 key words, in the same language. Keywords should be different from the words used in the title of the paper.

The text of the article should include the objectives, justification for the work, the methodology used, the results obtained and a discussion or conclusions.

Footnotes should be avoided and may be used in exceptional cases, to refer to data or Historical Archives, for additional comment but never for full bibliographical references (although they can refer to the main bibliography).

Acknowledgments will follow the main text placed before the Bibliographical References and contain the names and affiliations of the people thanked, as well as an explanation of the kind of collaboration given and the sources of research funding.

Figures and tables should be numbered in sequence in Arabic numerals in the order and manner in which they are cited in the text.

Other complementary material essential to the work will be placed in appendices at the end of the text after the bibliography.

SI Units (Système International d'Unités) should be used. If other units have been used in the manuscript, SI equivalents should appear in parentheses at strategic points.

Once the original text has been submitted, they will be examined by at least two external blind peer reviewers who will provide a report on the suitability for publication and any possible changes required.

Once the articles have been finally accepted, proofs will be sent in pdf format to the author who is in correspondence with Pyrenae, unless otherwise indicated. The texts must be sent back as soon as possible with corrections added where required.

The author or authors of each article will receive a hard copy of Pyrenae, as well as and may request a pdf of their article, once the volume is published. This pdf will be immediately posted in open access onto in the website of the Revistes Catalanes amb Accés Obert (with open access) and on the website of Pyrenae in pdf and digital form.

Bibliographical References

References cited in the text should contain the name of the author and/or authors (when there are two). In the case of three or more authors the expression et al., will be used. The year of publication will follow the author, and when necessary, specific references to page, table or figure (separated by colon). When there are several publications by the same author, the dates will be separated by commas. When there are several publications by the same author and from the same year, a letter will be added to the date. When there are different publications by different authors, each reference will be separated by a semicolon. When the name of the author is cited in the text, the dates and pages of references will go in parenthesis. Please follow these examples:

- (Brown, 2001)
- (Speth and Tchernov, 1998)
- (Albert et al., 2003)
- (Düffort et al. 2012).
- (Christie, 2012: 28) or (Christie, 2012: 28-33) or (Christie, 2012: 28, fig. 1.8).

How to prepare images

Tables and figures (including all types of illustrations) must be sent in color (for the pdf) or black and white (for paper edition), and must fit the journal format, within the set margins. Tables and figures will count as 600 words per page.

Each tables and figure must be submitted as separate files. They must be cited in the text at the appropriate place in parentheses using the word "table" or "fig." followed by the number (in Arabic) in the order they are mentioned in the text, for example (table 4) or (fig. 2). Tables and figures should be numbered as separate sequences.

Figures and tables must be indented and should not be enclosed in a borders or boxes.

All figures with plans or maps must include an indication of the North and a scale.

Figures which illustrate finds must include a scale.

All figures and tables must indicate the author or authors where this material is not that of the present author(s).

Only high-quality original artwork or electronic files in tiff or jpg format (300 dpi) should be submitted. Any other images should be converted into these formats.

Pyrenae invites authors to send one of the images of the article so that this can be used on the website to advertise their work.

Check that you have followed the guidelines for the submission of the article

BOOK REVIEWS

Pyrenae encourages the publication of book reviews which are published in the second volume of the year. The objective is to promote the diffusion of new research, comment on the history of particular research themes and scientific debate.

Prospective authors and editorials who wish to have their book reviewed or publish an advert should contact the Editors of Pyrenae. Two copies of the work should be sent addressed to Pyrenae (cf. the postal contact address): one example for the reviewer and one for the Library of the Facultat de Geografia i Història of the Universitat de Barcelona.

We recommend that a colour photograph of the book cover be sent so it can be published on the web site of Pyrenae.

Reviews published in Pyrenae are identified with a DOI.

Information for review authors

Authors that wish to publish a book review in Pyrenae, if they have not been contacted (commissioned) directly by the editors of Pyrenae, must contact Pyrenae in order to establish the first contact.

The length of reviews has no word limit, but reviews of 2000 maximum are the norm. References can be made in the text following the same guidelines established for articles. If the authors wish to exceed this word length, they should contact the Editors of Pyrenae to discuss whether it can be published.

The bibliographical reference for the book should comprise the name and surnames of the author/authors, the full title, the name of the publisher, the series (if there is one), the number of pages, figures and plates, as well as the ISBN.

Authors of a review must sign with their name and surname and provide their ORCiD ID.

The author of review will receive a hard copy of Pyrenae as well a pdf of their text. This pdf will be immediately uploaded in open access onto the website of the Revistes Catalanes amb Accés Obert and also in open access on the website of Pyrenae (pdf and digital form).

Information for the publishers

Publishers who wish to have propose a review of their books in Pyrenae must contact the Editors of Pyrenae. The journal will look for a suitable reviewer, if the publisher has no other suggestion. The publisher will be responsible for sending the volume to the reviewer.

One the review is published, if publisher has so asked, a hard copy of Pyrenae, as well as a pdf of the review will be sent to the publisher. They will also have access to download the copy uploaded in open access onto the website of the Revistes Catalanes amb Accés Obert and also in open access on the website of Pyrenae in (pdf and digital form).
